This Week's Program: The Federal Way Mirror

Andy Hobbs is a lifelong journalist who became publisher of the Federal Way Mirror in May. Andy had served as the Mirror's editor for seven and a half years (2006-2013) before taking a job in 2013 to write for The Olympian and The News Tribune. He has previously worked for newspapers in Arizona and Indiana - and his first job was delivering a daily newspaper on his bike. Andy and his wife, Amanda, have two boys: William, 11, and Dylan, 7, along with a golden retriever named Hank and a tabby cat named Tom-Cheeto. And yes, the kids named the cat.

2017 Poinsettia Orders

'Tis the season.... for collecting orders for poinsettias, which is an annual club fundraiser benefitting our shopping with kids program.

These are absolutely gorgeous plants and besides being beautiful, the sales benefit underprivileged kids in our community!

Attached to the Bulletin email is an order form that you may complete and return to Mike Pettit by email: mikepetitt@hotmail.com

If you have questions, please e-mail Mike.
