

2017 LO Interact and the Teen Tech Team at LOACC

Report of 11/4/2017 Service Project by Ted Ricks

Probably our most demanded service – helping seniors with their digital devices like smartphones and tablets with an occasional laptop.

Lake Oswego Interact volunteers every year to help answer basic questions about newly purchased or underused digital devices at the community center. This is the third year that LO Interact answered the call from Ann Adrian, the center director, to offer this “open to the public” workshop from 2:00-4:00.

40 seniors with their Samsung Galaxies and Apple iPhones and one Apple laptop showed up on Saturday, November 4.

Lots of snacks with four pizzas and drinks available for the Tech Team and seniors.

8 Interact members and 3 Rotarians gave up a couple of hours this Saturday – see below left to right, front and back rows: Karthik Sreedhar, Olivia Ricks, Pauline Petersen, Lacey Davis, Warren Lewanowski, Carter Larrance, Jonah Tappouni, Chloe Leeper, Hoshaiyah Long, and Jeremy Davis (LO Rotarian), and not shown Ted Ricks (Also, a LO Rotarian). The tasks included how to find and save apps; how to buy and save music tracks; how to take a video and save it to an album; or, how to use email commands.
