Special Guest Lydell Francisco

Lydell is a project manager for the last 8 years in Las Vegas, Orlando and currently here in Phoenix. He's honed his craft in various industries such as IT, design & tradeshow, utilities and most recently hospitality. He went to college at the University of California, San Diego with a focus on biological sciences in preparation for medical school. After a short stint in health care, his career transitioned to project management as a way of developing leadership & business acumen. While living in Las Vegas, he was an event planner in the evenings for the casino industry. It was there that he discovered that much of his project manager disciplines could be applied in social settings. Most recently, he left corporate America to pursue another personal goal: to start his own event planning business. His personal & business ethos is centered on honesty, perseverance and service. He has a strong passion for civic duty, building organic relationships and the Arts. In his spare time, you can find him buried in a good book, writing music on his piano or hiking one of our city's great hiking trails.
