Last Meeting

Officer Ben Haines and Partner Yager

Oak Ridge Police Department K-9 Partners

Our speaker at the August 31 meeting was Oak Ridge Police Officer Ben Haines, who was accompanied by his K-9 partner Yager. Haines came to Oak Ridge about six years ago from California. He settled on East Tennessee as a place to live and raise his family because "it's perfect"

The Oak Ridge Police Department (ORPD) started the K-9 program in the 1990s with two dogs. Today there are four, three trained for patrol and drug detection and one trained to detect explosive and guns that have been fired. All four dogs are assigned to patrol units, and each is assigned to a specific officer/partner.

The dogs are all Belgian Malinois, and all are trained in Europe. They are trained with commands that are not in English. Yager, Officer Haines' partner, responds to commands in Czech. Officer Haines explained that "there is no politically correct way to say 'go bite that guy!'" so they give commands in a language that bad guys around here generally don't understand. Haines pointed out that the dogs are here for their noses, not their teeth.

Each dog has had about 200 hours of training before they are purchased, and they train with their handler at least 16 hours per month to maintain their certification. They are certified annually for detection.

The trained dogs cost about $13,000 to purchase and about $3000 to train. They are usually about 2-1/2 years old and typically work eight to ten years.

Expanding our Science Fair

Our science fair projects will expand this year to include middle school students in grades 6-8. The reason for this expansion is to provide an avenue through which area students may progress to another level of competition in the Southern Appalachian Science and Engineering Fair.

The Southern Appalachian Science and Engineering Fair (SASEF) is the premier science and engineering competition for students in middle and high school in the 23-county service area of East Tennessee. It has promoted teaching the scientific method in science, engineering and math since 1952.

The fair is sponsored by the University of Tennessee and many local companies and agencies. It is held at the UT Thompson Boling Arena during the first week of April. There are two divisions of competition -- Junior Division for middle school students, grades 6 - 8, and Senior Division for high school students, grades 9 - 12.

SASEF is an official, affiliated regional fair of the International Science and Engineering Fair.
