Is Dalton Haunted?

By: Kathryn Sellers

Connie Hall Scott of Dalton Ghost Tours spoke about Dalton's rich past and amazing personalities who may be ghosts now. Fear of the unknown has always drawn people into stories and Connie's business plays to that fear. About 11 years ago, Connie started doing 90 minute walks through downtown talking about properties that have ghosts attached in stories related to her over the years. Those included among others are the Wink Theater with noises of children playing and doorknobs turning, Dalton Little Theater (the old fire house) with a long dead fireman "Carl" who seems to return, make noise and take equipment and in the Landmark Building in which weeping is heard late at night from a female who committed suicide in the building about 1968.

The tours are each Friday and Saturday evenings at 8 p.m. during October beginning on the wooden deck across from the Wink Theater.

Connie's book "Haunted Dalton Georgia" is available from Amazon and other book stores. She can be reached at Ghost Tours, Downtown Dalton on facebook for reservations or special tours.
