Brian Dill: Department of Community Affairs

Once upon a time in Ocilla, Georgia there was a little boy named Brian Dill. Brian dreamed of going to the University of Georgia, lobbying for Farm Bureau, working in economic development around our state and eventually working at the top of one of Georgia's largest agencies.

For that little boy from Ocilla, dreams come true.

Brian Dill (formerly with the Cumming-Forsyth County Chamber of Commerce and most recently Carroll Tomorrow) is the Chief Operating Officer of the Georgia Department of Community Affairs. DCA promotes and implements community and economic development, local government assistance, and safe and affordable housing. Using state and federal resources, DCA helps communities spur private job creation, implement planning, develop downtowns, generate affordable housing solutions and promote volunteerism. DCA also helps qualified low- and moderate-income Georgians buy homes, rent housing, and prevent foreclosure and homelessness.
