We Are Meeting In The MPR At Pacific This Week!

July 25, 2018

Winston Churchill

I recently read a book about Winston Churchill and according to the author of the book, he had a very depressing childhood but because of his determination and positive thinking he overcame a lot of faults and shortcomings to eventually become a great leader of his country. During the 2nd World War England was losing battles on the battle fields and was being bombed nearly every day by the superior Nazi German Air Force. The English Parliament was on the verge of throwing in the towel and taking the best offer they could get from Hitler when Churchill delivered over the radio his famous "We will fight them on the streets" speech that rallied the entire nation and kept Parliament from surrendering to Nazi Germany. Later on England joined with the United States and the Soviet Union and went on to help defeat Nazi Germany and remain a free nation.

Churchill was certainly a master of the English language and here are some quotations attributed to him that I received in a recent email and would like to share with you today. Enjoy!

I would rather argue against a hundred idiots Than have one agree with me.

Life can either be accepted or changed. If it is not accepted it must be changed. If it cannot be changed then it must be accepted.

We contend that for a nation to try to tax itself into prosperity is like a man standing in a bucket and trying to lift himself by the handle.

Islam is more dangerous in a man than rabies in a dog.

The main vice of capitalism is the uneven distribution of prosperity. The main vice of socialism is the even distribution of misery.

However beautiful the strateav. you should occasionally look

...however, to summarize the strategy, you should occasionally look at the results.

You don't make the poor richer by making the rich poorer.

A lie gets half way around the world before the truth has a chance to get its pants on.

A good speech should be like a woman's skirt. Long enough to cover the subject but short enough to create interest.

A pessimist sees the difficulty in every opportunity while a optimist sees the opportunity in every difficulty.

One man with conviction will overcome a hundred who have only opinions.

Success consists of going from failure to failure without loss of enthusiasm.

The best argument against democracy is a five minute conversation with the average voter.

Diplomacy is the art of telling people to go to hell in such a way that they ask for directions.

You will never reach your destination if you stop to throw stones at every dog the barks.

In the course of my life, I have often had to eat my words, and I must confess that I have always found it a wholesome diet.
